COSTUME WHIST.

Clever Entertainment Under Auspices of Woman's Club.

The entertainment given under the auspices of the Willimantic Woman's Club in Town hall Tuesday evening, was well patronized and proved a novelty for those present. It was a costume whist and the cards were 52 young people dressed so as to be easily discerned from any part of the hall. The whist was played by four of the city's most expert players.

Primrose's Minstrels at Opera House.
The attraction at the Loomer opera house Tuesday evening was George H. Primrose's Minstrels. The show was a fairly good one, but hardly up to the excellent standard set by the troupe in years gone by. A parade at noon, a musical performance, a number of people and the men in line looked up and span.

UNCAS POWER CO. APPEALS

From Recent Action of Assessors in Raising Valuation of Property.

Tuesday afternoon, through the office of the town clerk, Constable Chauncey E. MacFarlane served notice on the town of Windham of an appeal by the Uncas Power company from the assessors' recent action in raising the valuation of the company's property. The appeal comes from C. W. Comstock, president of and attorney for the company. The papers and documents for the company, a taxpayer of the town of Windham, doing business in Norwich and New Britain, on October 1, 1909, filed a truthful statement of their taxable property in the town of Windham, valued at $101,500. On February 14, within the time prescribed by law, parties claiming to be aggrieved by said doings appeared before the board of assessors and the board of relief and offered to be sworn as to statements concerning the valuation and usage of said property. The company claims the valuation by the board of assessors to be unjust and unlawful and seeks justice in the matter.

JUMPED THE TRAIL.

Nine Freight Cars Blocked Both Tracks Mile West of North Windham Tuesday Evening.

Nine cars toward the rear of Train No. 138, a freight due here from Boston about 6:30 o'clock, jumped the iron track at a point about one mile west of the North Windham station Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock, and so effectually blocked both tracks that a train due at 9 o'clock was held up here and sent to the scene of the wreck to transfer passengers from the passenger train due here at 9:45 from Boston to 10:45. The wrecker from East Hartford, with a wrecking crew from this city, were busy clearing up the cars for the balance of the night. The wrecked cars were a number of failures were torn up and badly twisted. No one was reported injured. It is not known what caused the cars to jump the track.

OBITUARY.

George W. Lyman.

George W. Lyman died Monday evening at his home at 100 Main Street, Hartford, from pneumonia, after a few days' illness. He was born in Columbia, Conn., in 1839, and was married to Lydia Lyman. He came from a long-lived family, his father being 90 years of age at the time of his death. His oldest brother, O. S. Lyman, formerly a physician in Hartford and Willimantic, was over 90 years of age when he died. Mr. Lyman was a direct descendant of Richard Lyman, who came to this country from England in 1631, remaining in Boston until 1839, when he removed to Hartford and became one of the original settlers. His name was in the list of the first settlers on the monument in the old cemetery. Mr. Lyman went to Hartford to live in 1839 and for several years was engaged in the coffee and spice business. He entered the employ of C. S. Stetson, who when the Civil war was first opened and remained there until he again went into the coffee and spice business, in which he remained about twenty years. He was a republican and had voted in every regular election since 1840. He was one of the original Wide Awakes.

Funeral of John B. Carman.

The funeral of John B. Carman was held Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock from his home in South Coventry. Rev. Nelson Light, pastor of the Congregational church of that village, officiating. The bearers were J. M. Wood, T. H. Wood, W. C. Lattimer, Albert E. Brown, F. H. Tracy and Edward E. Lyman of Brooklyn, N. Y. He has thirty-four grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren. His wife died about three years ago. The deceased was an uncle of D. A. Lyman of Willimantic and E. P. Lyman of Columbia.

Spring Lids for Postmen.

The local letter carriers have received new hats for summer wear to replace the winter caps. The hats are of the regulation blue-gray color similar in shape to the broad brimmed fedoras.

Unclaimed Letters.

Letters addressed as follows are unclaimed at the Danielson postoffice this week: Mrs. Margie Park, Miss Lucile Reynolds, Fred Beattie, Alfred Bieler, R. E. Blair.

CALLIANIS DEAD.

Demented Greek Who Hacked Trees in Two Towns.

Danielson people learn with interest of the death at Waregan of James Callianis, who died suddenly during Sunday night. Callianis is remembered here as the demented Greek who created a sensation by carving crosses on trees in the towns of Killingly and Putnam, so defacing the trees that a reward was offered for his apprehension.

Callianis was later arrested on information furnished by the local police by Danielson men, and the case brought finally before the superior court for Windham county at Putnam. It developed that the man was mentally irresponsible at times, and he was ordered committed to a state hospital to be made up here and sent to the scene of the wreck to transfer passengers from the passenger train due here at 9:45 from Boston to 10:45. The wrecker from East Hartford, with a wrecking crew from this city, were busy clearing up the cars for the balance of the night. The wrecked cars were a number of failures were torn up and badly twisted. No one was reported injured. It is not known what caused the cars to jump the track.

Services conducted by a priest of the Greek Orthodox church were held for Callianis at Waregan Tuesday.

The arrangements being made by a brother of the deceased resident in Lowell. Burial was in Westfield cemetery in Danielson. Louis Kennedy had charge of the funeral arrangements.

LOUIS HENEULT DEAD.

At Age of 73—Until Recently a Resident of Norwich.

Louis Heneault, 73, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Harry J. Silvy, in Elmville, Tuesday morning. Mr. Heneault had been a resident in that part of Killingly only a short time, coming there from Norwich, where he had lived for about three years. He was a native of Canada, but had lived many years of his life in the United States. For 26 years before going to Norwich he was a resident of Woonsocket.

Besides his wife, the deceased leaves the following children: Mrs. Rosella Silvy, Elmville; Mrs. Albin Richards, Fall River; Armand, Hartford; Arthur, Woonsocket; Clovis, Bristol; R. L. Phillips, superintendent of the mill of the Reliance Worsted company, Norwich, and Charles, boss dyer in the mill of the Reliance Worsted company, at Norwich.

FIRE AT MOTORIST.

Unknown Man Put Bullet Into Auto Driven by S. C. Hutchins.

If you were a careful, conscientious automobile driver, how many a bullet into the back of your car, without any provocation on your part, without any reason in the world, as far as you were able to judge? Such an incident occurred over in the town of Brooklyn on a recent evening, and just a little better marksmanship would have meant a bullet into the driver's head, following their arrest and pleading guilty to intoxication.

$50 ONCE, 11-2 CENTS NOW.

Sad Slump in Rating of Stock of Industrial and Manufacturing Company.

Tooted two years ago as a desirable investment paying 7 per cent, sold to numerous investors at $50 a share and looked upon as a permanent payer of profit, sixty shares of the preferred stock of the Industrial and Manufacturing company, representing a face value of $3,000, were sold at public auction at the steps of the Town hall building Tuesday morning for 90 cents. At that price, even the most ardent opponents to the company that issued the stock were willing to admit that most of the water had been squeezed out, and that the price, 11-2 cents a share, was about the limit. George S. Brown bought the stock, but not as an investment. He sold it a few minutes later for an even dollar, however, and got a profit.

Most of the stock was offered for sale as one of a collection of investments held by the estate of the late Almir E. Weston. Those stocks, of which there were several thousand shares, included mining, milling, oil, electric power, smelting and industrial holdings. All of doubtful or extremely small value. The majority of them had a par value of $1 a share. Frank T. Preston, an executor of the estate, arranged the sale, and Edward S. Carpenter acted as auctioneer.

The Industrial and Manufacturing company will be remembered as the company that built factories at New Britain, Gardner, Mass., Danielson and Mystic. Danielson was probably the most fruitful of the which they operated. Lots and stocks sold well here and a goodly number of the town's people invested generous sums to help make their visionary scheme a success.

At this sale, also, the house and land occupied by James Keech, on Raymond street, was sold for $1,000.

LOOKING AFTER ROAD WORK.

Engineer F. Walden Wright, recently appointed engineer for Windham county by State Highway Commissioner Macdonald, is looking over prospective work in this part of the county.

Sheriff F. B. Sibley of Danielson said Tuesday that Harry A. Chippendale, sent to jail from the superior court in this city, last week, would probably be able to secure a bondman and get his release today (Wednesday).

BEASTLY FATHER

Profits by Dishonor of 15 Year Old Daughter—Depravity of Harrison Young.

Revolting details, unfit to print, are in the possession of the officers of the city court of Putnam relative to the sacrifice of his daughter, Rosabelle's honor by Harrison Young of this city, now suffering from justice. The story in all its degrading complications is hardly believable as chargeable against any father with a spark of humanity in him, but evidence of trustworthiness given under oath before Judge L. H. Fuller in the city court leaves no room for doubt as to the justice of the action of the officials in bringing the girl forward charged with being in danger of falling into vice.

Rosabelle is a pretty girl, almost handsome, in fact, and is 15 years of age. For the past two years, as testified by Charles John Murray and Sergeant Patrick Hayes at the private hearing, she has been her father's companion, out late at night and in frequent perilous positions. Stories of a supremely scandalous nature relative to the manner in which the little girl's very honor was being bartered by a degenerate father have come to the officials from time to time, and as a result of these reports the taking into custody of Rosabelle followed. It was such a case as could not be tolerated in this city or other and the redemption of the child from a fate less desirable than death was the object of presenting her before the court.

It was proved by the testimony of reliable persons, that Young, who is a hanger on around saloons here, had bargained with different men for the use of his daughter, that she has been allowed to take intoxicating drinks until there are indications that she has acquired the habit for them, and that her associations have been of an extremely dangerous character. One witness testified to overhearing an agreement made on a trolley car last summer between Young and an Italian laborer, whereby for the sum of $50 Rosabelle was to go with the man and that the girl and the Italian later left the car near West Thompson.

Others overheard conversations of a similar nature was testified to by other witnesses. In each case the girl being the medium of sacrifice by which this devilish father sought to acquire money. All of these things came out in court, but Rosabelle does not implicate her father.

Attorney Eric H. Johnson has been appointed special guardian of the girl during the time that must elapse before Thursday night, to which time the case has been continued.

OBITUARY.

Mrs. George Larose.

Monday's Worcester Post said: Mrs. George (Paquette) Larose, aged 59 years, 31 months and 10 days, died yesterday morning in her home at 9 Vine street of nephritis. Her death was very sudden, coming when the family supposed her to be convalescent. Mrs. Larose was the daughter of Louis and Mary Paquette, who were among the first settlers of the town of Windham, and prominent in the founding of Notre Dame parish. She was married August 23, 1874, in Putnam, Ct., to George Larose. In 1876 she returned to Worcester with her husband. She was a member of the Third ward of St. Francis' society, Holy Family society, the Union of Prayer, the Stationers of the Cross and the Ladies Aid Society. She leaves her husband, George Larose, two daughters, Miss Georgianna Larose and Mrs. Eugene Larose, and three sons, George, Hoanah and Henry Larose.
